Profile

Sayali is a conscientious and dedicated case manager; she is a physiotherapist by background. She thrives on developing and supporting the rehabilitation process to enable clients to meet challenges and maximise their potential. Sayali has experience in the treatment and management of traumatic injuries including acquired brain injury, spinal injury and polytrauma. This is in addition to her wide-ranging clinical experience with pain management, neurological, musculoskeletal, respiratory, sensory and behavioural conditions.

Sayali has an excellent knowledge and understanding of mental health conditions and uses evidence-based interventions to support and measure the client's rehabilitation pathway. Sayali prides herself on her excellent communication skills with all involved in the rehabilitation process. She particularly understands the importance of being a reliable point of support and reassurance during what is often a very traumatic time for the client and their family.

Sayali has a background in community health and rehabilitation having worked across a number of NHS Trusts and dealing with clients requiring assessment and treatment where there is a risk of hospital admission or admission into long-term care. As a result, she has an excellent working knowledge of the benefits system, statutory service and equipment/adaptation provision as well as the discharge assessment and planning process from hospital to home.
